How an Out-of-town Telephone Connection Is Made

To make an out-of-town telephone call, tell the operator the name of the Exchange and the number you wish to speak to. She will immediately record this on a special

The operator using this ticket calls the distant point and secures the number you desire.

Thus a vibrant wireway has been built up for your voice—two lines of copper wire constitute the circuit; for example, from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh, 750 miles of wire are placed at your exclusive service.

This simplified explanation gives an idea of the "there-and-back" quality which enters into every out-of-town telephone message.

Next time you want to go out of town ask the operator for the rates and take a telephone trip.
